November is National Epilepsy Awareness Month

Epilepsy affects over 3 million Americans yet there is very little medical understanding of this disease. Cindy and David have toured the Neurology Research Center at Baylor College of Medicine and have experienced first hand the progress that they have made in understanding conditions relating to ailments of the brain such as epilepsy, stroke and Alzheimer's disease.

Join us in supporting Baylor College of Medicine in it's groundbreaking research. Monetary donations can be made directly to the Baylor Neurological Center with 100% of your contribution going towards research.
